

Mustansir Lokhandwala Testimonial

(St. Stanislaus School)

1. Greater Creativity:

I can now think in a more creative manner as earlier I would not get any solution to my problem but now I can easily get it. I have become much more creative than I was earlier because I can draw and colour better than before.

2. Richer Language:

I used to score maximum between 50 and 60 out of 100 in Marathi but recently I scored a brilliant 75 out of 100 in my Marathi exam which is a great improvement. I can now write it in my own words in Marathi but earlier I would only write whatever I would memorize or else I would leave it blank. My vocabulary in Hindi and English has also increased and therefore I make lesser mistakes in them.

3. Better Writing skills:

Earlier I could never complete my Hindi and Marathi paper as I felt it was very long but now I can complete them very comfortably.

4. Improved Concentration:

I can now focus more on what my teacher is teaching me in tuitions than I could earlier I can mark the vast difference between now and before.

5. Higher Grasping Power:

I can now understand what the teacher reads to me once and if I read it once or twice after that I can memorize the entire thing. I think all this is possible due to my increased grasping power.

6. Increased Memory:

Recently I appeared for a test series where I learnt my studies but did not revise it, I noticed that I could remember it much better even without revision.

7. Sharper Intelligence:

My teacher asked everyone about one of the events that happened in school before, nobody except me remembered about it. I answered each and everything about it in detail because of my sharp intelligence.

8. Better Mathematics:

My mathematics has improved tremendously compared to what it was earlier as now I can solve geometry much better than before as I understand it better and I can also think much better while applying the formulas. Earlier I used to get stuck in between the sums and would feel really frustrated but now all that has changed completely.

9. Faster Reading Speed:

I can now read very fast in all the languages and therefore I scored more marks in the oral exams for it.

10. Deeper Focus:

I can now complete whatever I decide because of my increased focus but earlier I could not complete my targets and therefore I had to leave the questions unanswered in the examination.

11. Increased Confidence:

I have now become very confident in solving my mathematics sums as after I get the solution I am sure that it is hundred percent correct unlike earlier where I would doubt myself.

12. High Level of Interest:

I have now become more interested in reading books but earlier I would hate it. I now bring different books to read and therefore I have learnt a lot.

13. Quicker Learning:

I can now finish learning one chapter on the same day it has been explained but earlier it used to take me almost three days to do the same thing. I can now understand better and therefore I can learn faster.

14. Improved Participation:

I have started participating more in all the activities of the school as well as madrasa but before it was the opposite.

15. More Active:

Earlier when I went to play football I would be so tired after it that I would just sleep but now I can study after playing football also.

16. Better Academics:

Earlier the maximum marks scored in my exam was 60% but recently I scored 70% in my exams which is a phenomenal achievement.

17. Better Sports:

I can now play the game of football much better than before as I can dodge the ball better and my overall game has improved tremendously.

18. Greater Interpersonal Skills:

I can now talk to shopkeepers without any hesitation but earlier I used to feel shy and I would avoid doing it.

19. Heightened Observation:

I now observe whatever my professor teaches in class minutely.

20. Expanded Self-Esteem:

I feel good about myself from inside and therefore I can play basketball better as earlier I used to feel that I would not be able to put the ball inside the basket but now I believed in myself and I could do it.

21. Enhanced Intuition:

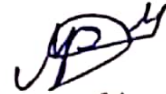

I feel that something is going to happen and it happens exactly that way for example I felt that something bad is going to happen and it happened that way.

22. Increased Emotional Strength:

Earlier I use to get angry very fast but now I can control my emotions and therefore my anger has come under my control.

23. Stress Free Studies:

I used to feel stressed out if I had to study a lot of things for the examination but after coming to Express Learning I am completely tension-free and therefore I can study better.
