

Aroush Khan Testimonial

(Christ Church)

1. Observation Heightened:

My observation has increased a great deal. For example: If I am asked to take a fruit out of fruit puzzle I can do it pretty fast.

2. Increased Emotional Strength:

I can now control my emotions much better than before as earlier whenever my sister would hit me I use to cry directly and cry a lot also, but now I can control my emotions much better. For example: I would get angry very quickly on small things but now I feel I am much happier than before as I am more in control of my negative emotions.

3. Increased Confidence:

Earlier I was low on confidence for doing anything but now I am much more confident. Whenever I go for an examination I feel more confident in appearing for it as I feel that since I have learnt everything I will definitely do well.

4. Improvement in Facing Problems:

Earlier I was scared about consequences as I use to feel panicked about what if something wrong happens but now I can face problems much better than before.

5. Faster Reading Speed:

Earlier I use to read 10-15 pages in half an hour but now I can read half of the book which is around 50-60 pages in half an hour's time which is much more than before.

6. Richer Language:

I would earlier get confused between has or have. I would also face a problem in deciding where to use "and" and "but" earlier but now I am confident about what is right. Nowadays I really enjoy speaking in the English Language.

7. Higher Level of Interest:

At first I would never like to study but now I enjoy studying. I would never like to read history at all earlier but now I enjoy reading it. I am now waiting to read something. I use to hate studying Geography and Mathematics earlier but now I enjoy studying it.

8. Improved Thinking:

I am very inquisitive about everything nowadays, earlier I would accept anything told to me as it is.

9. Higher Creativity:

Earlier I would limit my creativity to a certain extent but now it has improved and I can think much more creatively in whatever I do. For example: I recently saw my drawings of the past in the drawing class and felt that they lacked creativity.

10. Greater Involvement:

Whenever my teacher is teaching anything nowadays I get more involved into it For example: if my teacher is explaining about pollution to me I can feel it while learning.

11. Deeper Focus:

I use to get distracted very easily before but now I can focus on what my teacher is teaching me and if somebody calls me during the explanation I do not answer that person and stay focused on what is being explained.

12. Increased Memory:

I can now remember my studies even if I have studied it 3-4 days before the exams, earlier I would completely forget what I memorized before.

13. Better Mathematics:

My mental maths has improved a great deal as I can calculate much more faster than before. I take one second to calculate something for which my classmates take 3-4 seconds.

14. Quicker Learning:

If I read something with full concentration than I do not need to memorize it, I can only revise it once more and appear for my examination.

15. Enhanced Intuition:

I can now come to know when my mother is in a good mood or a bad mood without her speaking any word to me. I also warn my siblings about her bad mood so that they also can be careful about it.
